

COURT HOUSE

CASE GOES TO JURY.

The last argument in the $25,900 damage suit brought by Jacob Heinrich against the Massillon Coal Mining company was concluded in Judge Ambler's court at 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon and a half hour later the case was given to the jury, which is composed of B. C. Shilling, John Dahinden, George W. Shetstone, William Schrock, H. R. Dutton, George Walker, Peter Yoder, William Gruninger, Zadock Newman, Joseph Quinn, George Barth and L. B. Pfender. On account of it being almost certain that the jurors would not reach a verdict last night, they were excused by Judge Ambler at 4:30 o'clock to return promptly at 8:30 o'clock this morning, then to remain in session until a verdict was agreed upon. The suit was brought for injuries received by the plaintiff when a piece of oak timber in a shaft of the defendant company broke, throwing him down the shaft and permanently injuring him.

DIVORCE GRANTED.

Charissa Morrissey was granted a divorce yesterday afternoon by Judge Ambler from Michael Morrissey on the charges of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. The plaintiff was represented by Attorney John F. Jerome, of Minerva.

LOST MAN HELD FAST IN BARBED WIRE FENCE

After relatives had hunted for Peter Schmidt, who wandered away from his home at 813 North McKinley avenue, Monday, he was found about four miles north of the city Tuesday morning. The old gentleman, who becomes absent minded at times, walked to the place where he was found. He was discovered on the farm of W. J. Pontius in Plain township and when discovered he was held fast by a barbed wire fence which had penetrated his clothing. Mr. Pontius took him to his home and cared for him.

BAZAAR AT ST. JOSEPH

One of the finest bazars ever held in this city is being conducted in St. Joseph's church basement in the west end of the city this week. The basement is divided into different booths. The first contains fancy work and in charge of the Young Ladies' sodality. The second is the domestic booth in charge of the Altar society. The doll booth is in charge of St. Agnes sodality and contains three hundred fancy dolls. A candy booth is also in charge of the St. Agnes sodality. A country store is in charge of Jos. Schario and Andrew Bederman. A china booth in charge of John Hendershot. The duck pond is in charge of the St. Aloisius sodality. A booth in charge of Mrs. Ray Fiero is filled with articles donated by the merchants of Canton. There will be an elaborate turkey dinner and supper served on Thanksgiving. Friday afternoon is reserved for the children, all children of the city are invited.

DOLLAR WHEAT AGAIN

The fluctuation of the wheat market has brought the price to the one dollar mark again. Local dealers, however, are experiencing no such rush as that of last week. The decline in the price last week caused a temporary lull on the local market, and while the brightening yesterday was perceptible, it was not so noticeable as that of a week ago. Even if the price does exceed the one dollar mark it is not believed that the ensuing boom will be a record breaker, as the condition of the roads is hardly favorable.

BIBLE RESTORED TO MASONIC LODGE.

Montreal, Nov. 23—A copy of the famous "breches bible," published in London in 1599, and said to be the identical book on which George Washington was obligated as a Master Mason has been restored to Lodge of Antiquity No. 1, Q. R., A. F. and A. M., the oldest Masonic lodge in Canada, to which it originally belonged.

Antiquity lodge received its charter from Ireland and was instituted by officers of the Forty-sixth British regiment, of which Washington was a member. The initiation took place in New York on a visit of the Forty-sixth regiment. The book has since been kept in a vault under the care of various Masonic bodies.

This "breches bible" bears this title because of an error in printing. It is a Gouvenor bible, in which Genesis III, 7, reads: "Then the eyes of them both were opened, and they sewed fig tree leaves together, and made themselves breeches." In the authorized version "aprons" is the word used to describe the garb of our first parents after the fall.

CONVENTION OPENS AT WESLEYAN CHURCH

The convention of the Akron District of the Allegheny conference of the Wesleyan Methodist church, opened at the Canton church on East South street, last night with about fifty present. The convention will continue until Sunday. Several of the delegates who had not arrived last night are expected today.

Among the ministers of this district who will be present are T. K. Doty, of Cleveland; J. M. Humphrey, of Cleveland; W. H. and C. T. Williams, of Massillon; Fannie M. Welke, of Pleasant Valley; Grace E. Chadwick, of Barberton; G. W. Richardson, of Middlefield, and I. F. McLeister and Clara McLeister, of Akron. A number of members of the church from other cities are also in attendance.

No program for the convention has been prepared, but the routine matters will be disposed of on Friday afternoon. On Thanksgiving day, the Rev. Doty, of Cleveland, will preach a sermon at 10 a. m. Today the meetings will be held during the afternoon and evening; on Thursday they will continue all day; in Friday, afternoon and evening; on Saturday evening; Sunday, all day.

THE ELECTION AND ITS GREAT LESSON

The liquor interests of Mansfield have their own good and careful conduct to thank for the victory won Friday by the narrow margin of 54 votes. The fact that the men engaged in the business here are of higher character and standing than in such cities as Zanesville, Bellaire, Findlay and some other points that have gone dry is a notorious fact. Mansfield is peculiarly free from dives and the low resorts that have caused men, even of the most liberal views, to vote other counties dry. The high character of the population of this city has been reflected, in fact in every line and branch of its business. The fact that the liquor and brewing interests of this city have engaged in the business, men who have ever stood up for Mansfield and whose civic pride and liberality have contributed so much toward its growth, was taken into consideration Friday by voters who did not care to see only a thirty days notice given them to get out of business. Hundreds of the men who voted wet and who probably do not enter a saloon once in six months—men who detest the abuse of strong drink, were actuated by the considerations stated.

Let the liquor interests take note, however, that the people will be resentful of any infringement of a strict observance of the laws and ordinances governing the regulation of the traffic. The vote of Friday has more fully put them, on probation and unless that probationary period is closely observed in all respects the peril of being voted out will be enhanced many fold. The people's jury rendered its verdict but at that, the jury came very nearly being a hung jury—Mansfield Shield.
